7. Summary of Incident: At 0142 hrs, 18 Jan 03, Detainee [redacted] refused to give up his towel along with two other detainees in [redacted] Block, IAW memo signed by [redacted] DR dated 17 January 2003, Subject: [redacted] Blocks. Detainees are no longer allowed to keep their towels in their cell in [redacted] blocks, due to the events of 16-17 January where a detainee committed self-harm with a towel. At 2215 hours Detainee ISN [redacted] refused to give up his towel to the Block NCO. There were numerous attempts made to have the detainee give up his towel, without using force. The DFC and Psych talked to the detainee for approximately two and a half hours, to try and get him to give up his towel. The detainee still refused, the [redacted] IRF teams were assembled in [redacted]. Detainee ISN [redacted] refused to give up his towel. The interpreter and Guard Commander informed the detainee that he needed to give up his towel. Detainee ISN [redacted] still refused, and the Guard Commander sprayed him with [redacted]. The IRF team from [redacted] went into his cell [redacted] and secured the detainee using the minimum amount of force necessary. The detainee was moved from his cell to the recreation yard, where he was [redacted] from the [redacted] and was thoroughly checked by medical that stated that he was fine and had no medical injuries. His cell was searched and the towel was secured and removed from his cell. The Detainee was transported by the IRF team back to his cell and secured.
