Petitioners/Plaintiffs,

v.

GEORGE W. BUSH,

President of the United States, et al.,

Respondents/Defendants.

Civil Action No. 02-CV-0828 (CKK)

DECLARATION OF TERESA A. McPALMER

Pursuant to 28 U.S.C. § 1746, I, Commander Teresa A. McPalmer, Judge Advocate

General's Corps, United States Navy, hereby state that to the best of my knowledge, information and belief, the following is true, accurate and correct:

1. I am the Legal Advisor to the Office for the Administrative Review of the Detention of Enemy Combatants at U.S. Naval Base Guantanamo Bay, Cuba. In that capacity I am an advisor to the Director, Combatant Status Review Tribunals.

2. I hereby certify that the documents attached hereto constitute a true and accurate copy of the portions of the record of proceedings before the Combatant Status Review Tribunal related to petitioner Omar Rajab Amin that are suitable for public release. The portions of the record that are classified or considered law enforcement sensitive are not attached hereto.

Information considered law enforcement sensitive as well as that which would personally identify the detainee's family members and certain U.S. Government personnel have been redacted in order to protect the personal security of those individuals. Internment serial numbers have also been redacted because certain combinations of internment serial numbers with other information become classified under applicable classification guidance.

I declare under penalty of perjury that the foregoing is true and correct.

Subj: LEGAL SUFFICIENCY REVIEW OF COMBATANT STATUS REVIEW TRIBUNAL
FOR DETAINEE ISN # [REDACTED]Ref: (a) Deputy Secretary of Defense Order of 7 July 2004
(b) Secretary of the Navy Implementation Directive of 29 July 2004Encl: (1) Appointing Order for Tribunal #12 of 29 September 2004
(2) Record of Tribunal Proceedings

1. Legal sufficiency review has been completed on the subject Combatant Status Review Tribunal in accordance with references (a) and (b). After reviewing the record of the Tribunal, I find that:

a. The detainee was properly notified of the Tribunal process and elected not to participate.

b. The Tribunal was properly convened and constituted by enclosure (1).

c. The Tribunal complied with all provisions of references (a) and (b). Note that some information in exhibit R-14 was redacted. The FBI properly certified in exhibit R-2 that none of the redacted information would support a determination that the detainee is not an enemy combatant. Additionally, some information in exhibits R-15 and R-16 was redacted. It is clear that the improperly redacted information consists solely of internee serial numbers and an interviewer's name.

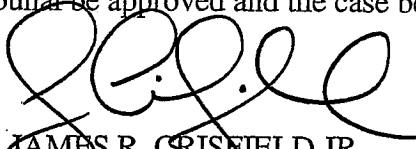

d. The detainee requested that four documents be produced as evidence at the tribunal.¹ He requested a copy of his employment history; his citizenship papers; a leave request from a job and his child's health report;² and documentation from a hospital regarding his child's medical treatment. The Tribunal President determined that the documents were relevant and forwarded a request to the U.S. State Department on 7 October 2004 in an effort to obtain the information. On 27 October 2004 the State Department notified the Tribunal that the U.S. embassy was unable to obtain the information. In light of the State Department notice, the Tribunal President determined that the requested documents were not reasonably available. In my opinion, the Tribunal President did not abuse his discretion in finding the documents not reasonably available.

² For reasons that are not readily apparent, both the Detainee Election Form and the Tribunal Decision Report refer to the leave request and health report as one document.

Subj: LEGAL SUFFICIENCY REVIEW OF COMBATANT STATUS REVIEW TRIBUNAL

- e. The Tribunal's decision that detainee # [REDACTED] is properly classified as an enemy combatant was unanimous.
 - f. The detainee's Personal Representative was given the opportunity to review the record of proceedings and declined to submit comments to the Tribunal.
2. The proceedings and decision of the Tribunal are legally sufficient and no corrective action is required.
3. I recommend that the decision of the Tribunal be approved and the case be considered final.

UNCLASSIFIED SUMMARY OF BASIS FOR TRIBUNAL DECISION

(Enclosure (1) to Combatant Status Review Tribunal Decision Report)

TRIBUNAL PANEL: _____ #12
ISN #: _____

1. Introduction

As the Combatant Status Review Tribunal (CSRT) Decision Report indicates, the Tribunal has determined that this Detainee is properly classified as an enemy combatant because he was part of, or supporting, Al-Qaida, which is engaged in hostilities against the United States and its coalition partners. In reaching its conclusions, the Tribunal considered both classified and unclassified information. The following is an account of the unclassified evidence considered by the Tribunal and other pertinent information. Classified evidence considered by the Tribunal is discussed in Enclosure (2) to the CSRT Decision Report.

2. Synopsis of Proceedings

The unclassified evidence presented to the Tribunal by the Recorder alleged that the Detainee traveled from Kuwait, through the United Arab Emirates to Bahrain, to Iran, and finally to Kabul, Afghanistan on 2 October 2001. He is a member of the nongovernmental organization (NGO) called the Kuwaiti Joint Relief Committee (KJRC). The KJRC is suspected of providing funding and travel documents for mujahedin fighters, with possible links between the KJRC and Al-Qaida. The Detainee is said to have admitted raising $10,000 U.S. dollars and transporting it to Afghanistan. He also admits fleeing with others due to the "opposition" Northern Alliance taking over the city. The Detainee's name was listed on a document recovered in safehouse raids associated with suspected Al-Qaida members in Karachi, Pakistan. The Detainee was also listed on a document as being a member of the Mujahedin Brigade in Bosnia. The Detainee chose to participate in the Tribunal process. He called no witnesses, requested no unclassified or classified documents be produced, and made a sworn verbal statement. The Detainee, in his verbal statement, denied being an Al-Qaida member. The Detainee testified that he was not associated with Al-Qaida either personally or through the Kuwaiti Joint Relief Committee. He also denied any knowledge of why his name may have shown up on a document seized from a suspected Al-Qaida safehouse. He admitted taking $10,000 to Afghanistan, but to distribute it to orphans and refugees, not to "transport" it to another person. He denied using the word "opposition" in reference to the Northern Alliance (with the implication that he was affiliated with whomever the Northern Alliance was opposing), claiming that the interrogators inserted that word into his previous statement. He denied being a member of the Mujahedin Brigade.

3. Evidence Considered by the Tribunal

The Tribunal considered the following evidence in reaching its conclusions:

- a. Exhibits: D-a, and R-1 through R-17.
- b. Testimony of the following persons: Sworn statement of the Detainee.

4. Rulings by the Tribunal on Detainee Requests for Evidence or Witnesses

The Detainee requested the following additional evidence be produced:

Evidence	President's Decision	Produced?
1. Copy of Employment History	Relevant but not reasonably available	No
2. Citizenship Papers for Kuwait & Bosnia	Relevant but not reasonably available	No
3. Leave request from job and child's health report	Relevant but not reasonably available	No
4. Hospital documentation showing child to have heart surgery.	Relevant but not reasonably available	No

*In response to the Detainee's request for these documents on 29 September 2004, the Tribunal President originally ruled that they were relevant and directed that coordination be made with the U.S. Department of State in an effort to procure them. On 27 October 2004, this office was notified by the U.S. Department of State that the U.S. Embassy was unable to locate the requested documents. The Tribunal did not construe this development against the Detainee, as no information was introduced to contradict the Detainee's testimony of what these documents would have said had they been produced. The Tribunal considered the testimony concerning these documents, along with the rest of the Detainee's testimony and the other evidence presented, to make its overall determination in this case.

5. Discussion of Unclassified Evidence

The Tribunal considered the following unclassified evidence in making its determinations:

- a. The Recorder offered Exhibits R-1 and R-2 into evidence during the unclassified portion of the proceeding. Exhibit R-1 is the Unclassified Summary of Evidence. While this summary is helpful in that it provides a broad outline of what the Tribunal can expect to see, it is not persuasive in that it provides conclusory statements without supporting unclassified evidence. Exhibit R-2 provided no usable evidence. Accordingly, the Tribunal had to look to classified exhibits for support of the Unclassified Summary of Evidence.

b. The Tribunal considered Detainee's sworn testimony. A summarized transcript of the Detainee's sworn testimony is attached as CSRT Decision Report Enclosure (3). In sum, the Detainee testified that he was not associated with Al-Qaida either personally or through the Kuwaiti Joint Relief Committee. He also denied any knowledge of why his name may have shown up on a document seized from a suspected Al-Qaida safehouse. He admitted taking $10,000 to Afghanistan, but to distribute it to orphans and refugees, not to "transport" it to another person. He denied using the word "opposition" in reference to the Northern Alliance (with the implication that he was affiliated with whomever the Northern Alliance was opposing), claiming that the interrogators inserted that word into his previous statement. He denied being a member of the Mujahedin Brigade.

c. The Tribunal found the following unclassified evidence unpersuasive in making its determinations:

1. Exhibit R-3, Affidavit from Detainee's family, undated. The Tribunal considered this exhibit unpersuasive, in pertinent part, because the Detainee contradicted parts of it during his Tribunal testimony. For example, when questioned about a discrepancy between his answers that he had never traveled to Pakistan, versus his family's assertion that he had traveled to Pakistan, the Detainee reaffirmed that he had never been to Pakistan and that his family must have said that because Pakistan is the place where he was captured. Also, when asked to reconcile his answer that he had told his family he was going to Afghanistan versus their answer that he did not mention anything about going to Afghanistan, the Detainee insisted that he had told his family that he was going there. He further offered that his family must have said that because they were trying to help him and did not want him to be in Cuba.

2. Exhibit R-4, Executive Order 13224, 23 September 2001. A search of this document indicates that Yasin al Qadi (referred to in Exhibit R-11) was designated on October 12, 2001 as a supporter of terrorism. However, there was no mention of the Detainee or the Kuwaiti Joint Relief Committee in this exhibit. Therefore, in and of itself, the exhibit did not help persuade the Tribunal that the Detainee was properly classified as an enemy combatant.

The Tribunal also relied on certain classified evidence in reaching its decision. A discussion of the classified evidence is found in Enclosure (2) to the Combatant Status Review Tribunal Decision Report.

6. Consultations with the CSRT Legal Advisor

No issues arose during the course of this hearing that required consultation with the CSRT legal advisor.

7. Conclusions of the Tribunal

Upon careful review of all the evidence presented in this matter, the Tribunal makes the following determinations:

a. The Detainee was mentally and physically capable of participating in the proceeding. No medical or mental health evaluation was requested or deemed necessary.

b. The Detainee understood the Tribunal proceedings. He asked no questions regarding his rights and actively participated in the hearing.

c. The Detainee is properly classified as an enemy combatant because he was part of, or supporting, Al-Qaida, which is engaged in hostilities against the United States and its coalition partners.

8. Dissenting Tribunal Member's report

None. The Tribunal reached a unanimous decision.

Respectfully submitted,

Colonel, U.S. Marine Corps
Tribunal President

The Tribunal President advised the Detainee that he would not be permitted to read classified evidence, and the following discussion ensued:

Detainee: Is it possible to see this evidence, in order to refute it?

Tribunal President: The classified information cannot be made available to you for reasons of national security. You may see the unclassified evidence.

Detainee: The past three years, through all of my interrogations, the evidence presented in the Unclassified Summary is basically a summary of what I've said in the interrogations before. The interrogators have talked and discussed every issue, big and little, that has been said. I'm not expecting there to be anything more than what is written here in the classified evidence, because the interrogators have not discussed any other evidence besides this.

Tribunal President: We don't know what might be in the classified evidence; we have yet to see it.

Detainee: I do not know what the Recorder has presented, in terms of evidence, but I do know that a lot of witnesses here, other Detainees here, are against my country. Some are Iraqis or other nationalities and may say something against me because of their dislike for my country. Some people here are crazy and not reasonable and some have talked with us Kuwaitis about the fact that they do not like our country. They may have said something against me because of that.

Tribunal President: We will take the things you have brought to our attention into consideration. We will give you an opportunity shortly to go into detail any information on the Unclassified Summary, as well as anything else you would like us to be aware of.

The Tribunal President continued reading the hearing instructions to the Detainee.

Summarized Sworn Detainee Statement

The Detainee was sworn.

- 3(a) The Detainee is an Al Qaeda and/or Taliban supporter.

This is very far from the truth and I deny it completely. I have worked with charity organizations for seven years and the Taliban had been governing Afghanistan for six years. Al Qaeda, who knows how long they've been around? Since the 90's or since the days of the Russians?

Not one day in my life had I traveled to Afghanistan, Iran or Pakistan and I never transferred even $1.00 into the accounts of any of these people.

The Americans, the FBI and the CIA, know this. My name is not even on any of their "black lists."

The Taliban has been around for six years and enforce the (inaudible) Islamic law and they destroyed the statue of Buddha. All of this did not attract me to help them for even one day.

All of the sudden I am an Al Qaeda and/or Taliban supporter? This is something that is, quite honestly, very very far from the rest of the evidence. I did not expect this to be on here.

Regarding these points, some of them are correct, but the interrogators have altered their meanings. Some points have some words changed and some are very far from the truth. Some points have never been mentioned to me in three years. If you wish, I'll go through each point separately and elaborate on each one.

- 3(a)1 The Detainee traveled from Kuwait, through the United Arab Emirates to Bahrain, to Iran, and finally to Kabul, Afghanistan on 2 October 01.

I did not travel to Bahrain; I traveled from Kuwait to the United Arab Emirates to Iran, and that was my final destination point.

I had seen the news, and even CNN was reporting that there were 2 million refugees that were fleeing from Afghanistan to Iran. I wanted, to my ability, to work with charity organizations, NGO's I had worked before in Zagreb, Croatia for 1½ years and for 5½ or 6 years in Bosnia.

I will mention this more, but this is just to address why I was going to Iran.

The 2 million refugees in Iran and the million refugees in Pakistan; their situation was terrible and sad. I was very touched by this and I felt the need to help. I went to Iran to see this for myself. Those of us who work with charities do not put too much emphasis on what we hear from the media. We like to see it for ourselves; we have to see the reality of the situation. I took about 1 to 1½ months leave from my work, so I could briefly see what the situation was.

I did raise $10,000 before I went there, and that is approximately 3,000 Kuwaiti Dinars. For Kuwaitis, 3000 Kuwaiti Dinars is not a large sum of money at all. About 1/3 of that amount I contributed myself and the rest of the money was from my brothers and sisters. I was very quick and necessary because I was going to see 2 million refugees, so it wouldn't make sense to go empty handed.

I went to Iran and went to the borders and I didn't see anything. At that point, I had to make a decision, either to go in [to Afghanistan] or to go back, so I decided to go in.

The interrogators asked me why I decided to go into Afghanistan when I knew the Americans would go into this war with Afghanistan. I told them that if I had known the Americans were going to enter the war, I would not have gone in. Also, if I had known that they were not going to apply the Geneva Convention, especially to people working in charity organizations, I would not have gone in.

I always repeat this to the interrogators, a statement from the Secretary of Defense. I remember this statement very well and I'm going to say it in English. "He who thinks we will fire a couple of cruise missiles to Afghanistan is mistaken. This war is going to be a political war, an economical war, an information war and an intelligence war." They didn't say it was going to be a military effort. This was a statement that was repeated by all American officials. The Secretary of Defense said this was going to be an unconventional war.

The Americans were not stupid. They were not going to commit all their troops to go into Afghanistan to die, like the Russians and the British. The same thing was said by military analysts on the news. I saw it myself, on the news. The Americans were not going to be foolish, and that's why I made the decision, that ultimately brought me here, to go into Afghanistan to see those 2 million refugees, that apparently were not even there.

- 3(a)2 The Detainee is a member of the non-governmental organization (NGO) Kuwaiti Joint Relief Committee.

It is true; I was a member of the Kuwaiti Joint Relief Committee from 1993 until 1999. From 1993 to mid 1994 I was in Zagreb, Croatia and from 1995 to 1999 I was in Bosnia. The Kuwaiti Joint Relief Committee didn't have anything to do with me going to Afghanistan, because in 1999 I was done with it.

- 3(a)3 The Kuwaiti Joint Relief Committee is suspected of providing funding and travel documents for mujahadin. Possible links to Al Qaeda.

This is apparently explaining 3(a)2 and is against me, it seems. The Kuwaiti Joint Relief Committee was in Bosnia from 1993. The Americans were in Bosnia from 1995 to 1999, or until I left. They might have been there longer. No one ever gave this committee any trouble or said anything about their activities in Bosnia. On the contrary, the Americans would come and meet with us and with the head of the committee. We were given many thanks from the Bosnian government, the American government and the Croatian government, for the work this Joint Relief Committee was doing in Bosnia.

No one ever voiced any opposition against what we were doing until September 11th. Only after September 11th is this point being brought up.

If you look at the wording of this statement it says "suspected" or "possible." Nothing concrete. It's all speculation. Only after September 11th did it become like this. It's not normal.

- 3(a)4 The Detainee admits raising $10,000 (USD) and transporting it to Afghanistan.

I think I covered this in my response to 3(a), but quickly I'll go over it. Yes, I did raise $10,000 but it was not to transport it to Afghanistan. This statement implies that I was going to meet someone in Afghanistan and is not correct.

Yes, I did raise $10,000 but this amount is very trivial in Kuwait.

- 3(a)5 The Detainee admitted fleeing with others due to the "opposition," (Northern Alliance) taking over the city.

This is true, but I was not with anyone else. I went by myself. I did flee, but not only because the Northern Alliance was taking over the city, but also because the residents of the city were killing Arabs.

I had my own personal interpreter with me who helped me. We were working every day from the morning until sunset. We would work all day, meeting with the poor people and the orphans.

Thank God, one day my interpreter said I shouldn't go back to the city because the Northern Alliance was either nearing the city or had already taken the city, but people inside the city were killing any Arabs in the city at the time. So, I left by myself.

Later on, I met other Arabs that were with Afghans. They rounded us all up together. It was a very long trip to Pakistan and at that point, we surrendered ourselves at the Pakistan border. We turned ourselves in to the Pakistanis at their border.

- 3(a)6 The Detainee was listed on a document recovered in safehouse raids associated with suspected Al Qaeda in Karachi, Pakistan.

Like I said before, this is the first time I've heard of this. None of the interrogators ever brought it up at any of the interrogations. I know the interrogators make it a point to talk about every little or big thing that comes to their attention.

So, just my name doesn't make any sense. Did you see any documents of mine? Did you see a passport? Did you see anything? Just my name? That's it? This doesn't make any sense.

What I think is that some people in Pakistan were sympathetic to our situation and leaked our names to the media. These names that were leaked to the media were taken by Arabs and brought over to our families. Maybe some of the Arabs saw my name in the media and took it so they could tell my family what was going on. Other than that, it doesn't make sense.

I asked the interrogators if they found my passport over there and they said no.

- 3(a)7 During the raid on the Karachi safehouses, armed gunmen fought with police; firearms and grenades were seized; and police and security forces were injured by gunfire.

This item was not initially addressed by the Detainee (but see page 7 below).

- 3(a)8 The Detainee was listed on a document as being a member of the Mujahadin Brigade in Bosnia.

The interrogators have been asking me about this for three years. One time, the interrogator had a document in his hand and was reading from it and said that I was a member of the Mujahadin Brigade in the Bosnian Army from either 1992 to 1993 or 1993 to 1994.

I answered him by asking him if he knew where I was in the year 1992. I told him I was in Nebraska and I was graduating. I graduated in May of 1992. From 1992 to 1993, I was in Kuwait, working for the Kuwait Institute for Scientific Research.

From 1993 to mid 1994 I was in Zagreb, Croatia. Of course, he became silent at that time. He asked how would the Bosnian government provide him with this document and I told him I'd explain and I'll tell you the answer. It is a long story, but I'll tell you the short version.

I married a Bosnian woman in the end of 1994. As you know, there was a war over there at that time. When we got married it was a religious ceremony. It was a legitimate marriage but I didn't have a Bosnian citizenship at that time, so we weren't able to register the marriage with the Bosnian government. I was living in Kuwait, so I was not concerned with getting a Bosnian citizenship.

The problem was that my wife got pregnant during the war. At that time, if your wife was pregnant and you did not have a Bosnian citizenship, the child would not be legitimate. They would register the child in the mother's name, not the father's. To me, this was important.

At the same time, how could I go to Kuwait at that time to register my wife and son there? I did not have any documents or paperwork with me. The only way to register my son, legitimately with my last name, was for me to become a citizen. Now, I had to obtain a Bosnian citizenship, and I had the right to do this because I was living in Bosnia, married to a Bosnian citizen.

We got in contact with people who said they were able to finish the paperwork for us. The paperwork I requested, translated and notarized, I gave to this man. He asked for 1,500 Deutschmarks for fees or taxes and 500 Deutschmarks for his time and labor. So, I gave it to him so he could continue. At that time, thank God, I was able to get my wife and go to Kuwait.

This should all be registered somewhere. The Kuwaitis brought this over to the interrogators. This paperwork said when I left and when I came back.

I returned, once again, in 1996 and the police asked me to meet with them, after the war had ended. I went to them and they said I had the right to citizenship. At that time, I wasn't really pleased or displeased; I just didn't have any objections. I took the paper and registered, but unfortunately they gave me the citizenship through the Bosnian Army.

You can verify this. If you look at everyone who came in after the war in 1998, 1999 and 2000, that's how most got their citizenships, through the Bosnian Army. The person doing the paperwork tricked them, like he tricked me. He took the 1500 Deutschmarks that I gave him and if they do it through the Bosnian Army, he doesn't need to pay a tax or a fee.

ISN# [REDACTED]

The American government and the Bosnian government formed a committee to review these files, and I believe it was in 1999. They found that many of the people that got their citizenships at that time, got it the same way.

In truth, they never served in the Bosnian Army, but that's how they got their citizenship. It's all false certifications and that's what the interrogator was looking at when he was talking to me, saying that I was in the Mujahadin Brigade, the Bosnian Army, from 1992 to 1993.

That is false, and what proves that is that I was in Nebraska and Kuwait from 1992 to 1993. Or, I was in Zagreb, Croatia. Because I'm an Arab, it was easy for me to be registered in the Bosnian Army, in the Mujahadin Brigade. They would just take 200-500 Deutschmarks and register you under the Bosnian Army, like a bribe.

That is the truth, and I hope you take this into consideration. The Americans were in Bosnia and Kuwait and I never had any problems with them, or them against me. I was never on any "black lists," I was never wanted; no one was ever looking for me, until September 11th. But, after that, these points came up.

Personal Representative, is there something that I did not say?

Personal Representative: Point 3(a)7.

Detainee: Obviously, if point 3(a)6 is not true, then what does 3(a)7 have to do with me? In my entire life, I never went to Pakistan, not even for one day, so what do I have to do with any safehouse in Karachi? The Pakistani government must have given the Americans this information. I turned myself in on the Pakistani border between Afghanistan and Pakistan. I didn't go in or come out of Pakistan.

There's a point I was shown on the document from the White House [R-4]. What is against me in this document? I have reviewed it with my Personal Representative earlier and, thank God, neither my name nor the name of the committee I was on was on that list of names or organizations. I don't know why the Recorder presented this to the tribunal.

Tribunal President: We noted, as well, that your name and your organization were not listed here. At this point, we don't know why that other name is highlighted.

Detainee: What is in there that is against me?

Tribunal President: Classified information might link it together, but we don't know that at this point.

Detainee: I know there is nothing that links them together. Thank you for listening.

Personal Representative: Would you like to explain what those four documents [the documents the Detainee requested, but the government was not able to produce] might have said?

Detainee: Obviously, it's clear that I requested these documents because I was going to Iran for a specific purpose and was intending to return. I took leave from my job for a month to go there and come back. Obviously, I wasn't going there to stay and fight with the Taliban or help the Taliban. I went there with $10,000.

The other thing I requested was that I have seven years experience working with charity organizations in Zagreb and in Bosnia. The Kuwaiti government brought this information over when they met me personally. They told me that they have everything on me. They asked me many questions regarding the information I requested. Where did I work? When did I work? They met with me twice.

The third thing I requested was verification that my son was in the hospital, having heart surgery, so it was imperative I returned quickly. I was going for a specific purpose, and I had given a specific date for [my son's] operation in November, so I had to return quickly.

I think that the information in these documents would help me. I have experience working with charity organizations and that was my reason for going there.

Tribunal President: We may have some questions, but for now, does this conclude your statement?

Detainee: I hope this Tribunal is a fair one. I've already been classified as an enemy combatant but from what I know of the American justice system is that a person is innocent until they are proven guilty. Right now, I'm guilty trying to prove my innocence. This is something I haven't heard of in a justice system.

I hope that you look at this evidence and my statements with a fair mind. Don't look at, or take into consideration, my appearance or my clothes. I hope that the truth is just.

Personal Representative: I just want to clarify that when the Detainee was in Nebraska, he was at the University of Nebraska.

Tribunal President: We understand. We want to remind you [Detainee] that this is a non-judicial proceeding. It is an administrative, legal proceeding. We come here with an open mind to determine if you have been properly classified as an enemy combatant.

Tribunal Members Questions to Detainee

- Q: Looking at the Affidavit your family completed on your behalf, you are an engineer by trade?
- A: I have a Bachelor's degree in Agriculture. In Kuwait they say Agricultural Engineering, but technically, it's not.
- Q: Did you work in this field after graduating?
- A: In Kuwait, yes, I worked with the Kuwaiti Institute of Scientific Research for about four months.
- Q: Your primary area of concentration was with charity work?
- A: My work with the Kuwaiti Institute of Scientific Research was difficult for me. I had just graduated and the work required a lot of research. Not difficult, but required a lot of work and long hours, you have to put a lot of effort into it. In 1993, the Bosnian dilemma came up. It was covered thoroughly in the media. At that time, many Kuwaiti charity organizations were working on the Bosnian issue. I wasn't working at that time; I was looking for another job. Truthfully, I was drawn to the Bosnians and the idea of charity work.
- I worked in Croatia from 1993 to 1994. In 1995, I worked with the Ministry of Labor and Social Affairs. We were working with the agricultural section of that ministry.
- Q: In 1993, when you first went to Croatia, was that organization already established, or did you help to establish it?
- A: No, it was already established. It was in Croatia, not Bosnia and the head of the committee was already there.
- Q: What duties did you have when you first started working?
- A: Because I was Kuwaiti, and the head of the committee was Kuwaiti, it was the two of us working with mostly Bosnians. Our work was concentrated mostly on refugees that were coming in from Bosnia.
- Q: What, specifically, were you asked to do?
- A: The orphans from Bosnia were coming in to a new place, so we would meet with them. We would do many things to make them more comfortable coming into this area. Just talking with them, saying kind words, giving them food, and paying for the houses they were staying in. We would give 50 Deutschmarks per month, per orphan. Things of that nature.

Q: You were in Croatia and then Bosnia from 1993 to 1999?

A: No, from mid 1994 until 1999 I was in Bosnia.

Q: All together.

A: All together from 1993 to 1999.

Q: What was the highest position you attained at this organization?

A: Assistant Director of this organization.

Q: So, basically, you were the #2 man there?

A: Considered as #1. There were only two of us Kuwaitis and it's a Kuwaiti organization, a Kuwaiti had to be in charge of it.

Q: That makes sense. In 1999, you finished your work with the Kuwaiti group?

A: Yes.

Q: Is it because the conflict in Bosnia ended, or because you wanted to find something else to do?

A: I was working with the Ministry of Social Affairs since 1995. In 1995, they transferred me to the Kuwaiti Joint Relief Committee, by special contract between the two organizations. The Ministry of Social Affairs and the Kuwaiti Joint Relief Committee had an administrative affair. This was an annual contract.

In 1995 the Americans came in and started helping people there, and also getting back to their own countries. So, people started working and things started moving on. There was no longer a need at that time for charity work.

So, in 1999 I finished working there. I did not renew the contract and went back to my work with the Ministry of Social Affairs.

Q: Was that your choice, or did the Kuwaiti government ask you to do that?

A: I would go to them, and if they needed me they would approve me working there, but if they didn't need me, they would not sign me.

Q: The Unclassified Summary indicates there are possible links between the Kuwaiti Committee and Al Qaeda. I gather you don't know anything about that?

A: You don't have that with you. Where did you get that information? The terrorism list that you have, that committee is not listed on there. How did you get a possible link to Al Qaeda? Where did you get that from? They don't have an office in Afghanistan.

You didn't state this, about the committee, until after September 11th. Before that, there was no problem. If the American government knew this committee had any ties to Al Qaeda, the head of the committee would be here and anyone who worked with the committee would be here.

Now, unfortunately because I was brought from Afghanistan and I'm in Cuba, they're trying to try this Kuwaiti organization to Al Qaeda and it's not just. That is not fair. I was done with this Kuwaiti Joint Relief Committee in 1999 completely. Americans never had a problem with that committee, so why do you bring that now?

Q: At this point, we don't know, but it may have something to do with this gentlemen listed on the Executive Order, Mr. Yasin Al Qadi.

A: I don't know him. He never worked with us and he's not even the head of the department. I gave you the names of the Kuwaiti government. When they came here, they brought a list of the names of the people working, and that's not one.

Q: Before today, you've never heard that name?

A: No, by God, I do not know. Today, the Personal Representative showed me the document.

Q: 3(a)5 of the Unclassified Summary says you admitted to fleeing with others due to the "opposition" taking over the city. That's Kabul?

[The Detainee nodded affirmatively.]

Q: I think the implication is, that if you referred to the Northern Alliance as the "opposition," this implies you were sympathetic to those they were fighting against.

A: Northern Alliance, "opposition," that's what the media is saying. I don't have anything to do with the words. I didn't say "opposition," the media said the "opposition" was fighting against the Taliban. That's the truth.

The Taliban was governing the country for six years. If I was concerned with them, I would have gone there, at least once.

Q: Regarding 3(a)6, where your name was supposedly on a document recovered in Karachi.

A: This is the first time I've read this. The interrogators never brought this up. Usually, when they get information, they show me so they can see my reaction is to that information. Truthfully, I don't know anything about this point.

I told you my theory about this point. Pakistanis were sympathetic to our situation, and you know what the situation was like at that time. They were leaking our names to the media so someone might get news of us to our families.

Did you find my passport or any documents? In the classified evidence, do you have anything like that? No. You didn't find that. Just a name like that? I don't have any explanation, except the one I gave you.

Q: The obvious concern is, that if this is true, then, for some reason, Al Qaeda knows who you are.

A: I don't know, like I said, this is the first time I've seen this. I don't have an explanation for that. It's just a name. If my name was known by Al Qaeda, I would have been on a "black list" and you would have known about me.

The problem is that you can write anything down and then form any explanation for it. Like 3(a)2, 3(a)3, and 3(a)4. You write down the fact, but then you form another explanation for that fact. That is not fair.

Q: The question we must answer for ourselves is, say you were not involved at all with Al Qaeda. Then, why would they care who you are?

A: Who?

Q: Senior Al Qaeda people, we presume.

A: I'm asking you a question. Since when has Al Qaeda been around? Since the 90's? Since that time, have I ever had any relationship with Al Qaeda? Have I ever transferred any money to them? You would know. The Americans would know. Did I ever go meet them in Afghanistan or Pakistan?

Just a name like that? I don't have an explanation for it, besides what I told you. This is something that I've heard from many of the Detainees here, as well.

There was a Kuwaiti Detainee here who was 16 years old. I heard he was captured in Pakistan, and as soon as he was captured, his name was leaked to the press; people called his family right away and the Kuwaiti government intervened and brought him back.

Why won't you accept my explanation for this? Honestly, I never entered Pakistan at all. I'm sure the Pakistan government brought the information to the interrogators, whether I entered or didn't enter Pakistan.

- Q: In the Affidavit from your family, one of the questions asked was where you had traveled during your life. One of the responses they gave was "the countries he traveled to were the United States, Turkey, United Arab Emirates, Bosnia, Bahrain, Egypt, Saudi Arabia and Pakistan."
- A: Pakistan? No.
- Q: Is there, perhaps, a mistake there?
- A: I was captured in Pakistan. That's exactly what happened. They contacted my family and said "your son is present in Pakistan."
- Q: So, they were only referring to the fact that you were captured there?
- A: That's what I think. I haven't called my family or talked to them, but that's what I think.
- Q: The next part of the answer says, "In the United States, he attended university there and some vacations and in both Bosnia and Pakistan he did charity work."
- A: In Pakistan? I swear to God I did not go to Pakistan.
- Q: That's the only reason I thought you were there, because your family said this.
- A: I think, that since they knew I was captured in Pakistan, they were trying to help me in any way. I swear I did not go to Pakistan.
- Q: In 3(a)7, I think I understood you to say, you know nothing about the raid on the Karachi house, and obviously you were not there and you don't know anybody who was there.
- A: Right. If I had never entered Pakistan, how would I know anything about this point? They only put down 3(a)7 because it's related to 3(a)6.

Q: In the first part of your statement, you mentioned after hearing the media reports there were 2 million refugees and you went to Iran and didn't see any refugees. Then you went from Iran to Afghanistan and that's where you found all the refugees?

A: That's the tough decision I had to make; should I go in or should I return? The decision was to go and see if there were really refugees there or not. Part of the decision was if the Iranians would allow me to proceed without any problem, then I would proceed.

At the same time, I was thinking about all the statements that were released from the Secretary of Defense and the military analysts, and from the news media.

The Americans went into Yugoslavia and captured the biggest dictator in the world, Milosevic, and people were still working. No one interfered with any charity organizations. The same thing in Bosnia; we were never subject to anything.

The fact that the Americans would not apply the Geneva Conventions to us; that they would capture us and bring us here, never did I expect this to happen. The UNHCR was there and there were other Christian organizations that were helping, and no one bothered them. I think that because I'm an Arab and I'm a Muslim, maybe that's why I'm here.

Q: So, no matter what you found in Afghanistan, whether it was better or worse than you thought, your plan was to only stay 1-½ months and then return to Kuwait?

A: When I took leave for 1 to 1 ½ months, that was just so I wouldn't be rushed. That was the longest period I would have stayed, but in reality, I expected my time in Iran to just be one to two weeks; just go in, look at the situation to see what was going on, and then return.

Q: But, you were going to distribute your funds and whatever else you had to the refugees, either directly or through some other group? How was that going to work?

A: Anyone that does charity work knows the first thing you do when you go to a country, whether it's Yugoslavia, Iran, Iraq, or any other country, the first thing you do is get permission from the government of that country to distribute whatever funds you have or to do charity work.

Truthfully, it's a matter of getting a document and permission that says that you have formed a charity organization or committee that was going to distribute the funds and that you have permission from the government to do so.

After that, it's easy. You get permission and then you go meet with the refugees and determine what they need. Do they need food? Do they need money? You talk with them and find out exactly what they need. It's an expedited form of charity. You just quickly go, and get a quick overview of what the people need.

Q: That was my next question, because you obviously know how to do this from your experience with charity work, but that seems awfully ambitious to do all that in a week.

A: What's the problem? You go meet with the government officials; you get the permission from them. That takes a day or two. After that, you meet with the refugees or the orphans, distribute money, record their names, and that shouldn't take more than a day or two. I wasn't going there to lay my head down and sleep. That's charity work. I go in the morning and I come back at night. That was my work. That's how we worked in Zagreb and Bosnia; that was our job.

Q: It is not so much an observation on you, as on the Taliban government; in the middle of fighting a war, I didn't think they'd be that efficient.

A: The important thing is just to get approval; it can be orally. You don't have to get a written statement or anything, just as long as someone doesn't present any objections to what you want to do. It doesn't need to be a big production.

Q: How far were you able to advance your plan before things got difficult?

A: First of all, I made the wrong decision that brought me here to Cuba, by entering Afghanistan. I thought the Americans would not harm me, like they did not harm the people in Yugoslavia, and that was if they even entered the war. When I entered, Americans were not there at that time. There were no Americans; there was not a war.

I got to Kabul, and two days later, the Americans started bombing. At that time, I realized that my mission would be really difficult, and I decided to leave. I had to formulate an evacuation plan when the Americans started bombing.

Q: In two days, you weren't able to accomplish a whole lot?

A: There was nothing I could do. I went to Kabul and the next day, I was trying to find a place to stay. I was explaining that I worked in charity and was looking for an official from the Taliban to get the documents signed, with the approval I needed.

I couldn't communicate very well with them, just using sign language, so the owner of the restaurant helped me. He wrote something for me, [and] got me a taxi. I got in the taxi with the paper and went to a building where a Taliban official was.

I went to the 2nd or 3rd floor. No one spoke Arabic, just very, very basic Arabic. They saw that I was not Afghan, so they brought me to someone that spoke a little Arabic. I told him I was Kuwaiti and introduced myself. I told him I was looking for someone in the department for refugees and I wished to help the refugees.

They said that person was not there, but I could make an appointment for three days later. Who he was or where he was, I don't know. I said it wasn't a problem, but I need an interpreter to be with me. He said he'd try to find an interpreter for me.

For those two days, I couldn't really do anything. I was looking for a place to stay and looking for a translator. I was not able to do anything.

Then, the bombing happened, and that's why I couldn't do anything in those two days.

- Q: At the time of your capture, you were still considered to be an employee of the government of Kuwait?
- A: Right, with the Ministry of Social Affairs, because I had taken official leave.
- Q: You brought up the situation with the young Kuwaiti detainee who was here. You said that once the Kuwaitis found out here, they immediately intervened and he was released...
- A: Not here, not in Cuba. We heard here that he had been captured in Pakistan or somewhere else. He was either 15 or 16 years old. His name was leaked, like these names I'm telling you about and they contacted his family right away. I think his family went straight away to the Kuwaiti government.
- Q: I was wondering, if you are with the Kuwaiti government, and Kuwait is an ally of the United States, why the Kuwaitis hadn't done the same for you.
- A: I wish they had done that. We asked the Pakistanis to meet with people from the Kuwaiti embassy, but they turned us over to the Americans right away. They didn't allow us to talk to anyone. I don't know what they did. They sold us or there was an agreement. I don't know.
- Q: When you went to Croatia to do charity work, did you have interpreters set up ahead of time?

- A: We had a big office there, and when I arrived the office was already established. We had many employees working there at that time. They were officially registered with the government; everything was done already.
- Q: You knew there would be interpreters ahead of time and it wouldn't be a problem?
- A: Yes, the met me officially and introduced me to everyone. At that time I was a volunteer, not the Assistant Director.
- Q: To converse in the language, there would be people to help? Or, maybe you picked up some of the language after being there for so many years.
- A: No, the language was very...there were Bosnian interpreters to help us.
- Q: When you went to Iran and decided that the refugees weren't in Iran, and then you decided to go to Afghanistan, how did you know where to go in Afghanistan to find some refugees to help?
- A: Like I said, I was going towards the border and thought that if they let me go in, then I would go in. I was thinking that the refugees would go to the border close to Iran. I thought if they hadn't actually gone into Iran, they'd at least be close to the Iranian border.
- I went to the closest village and there was nothing there at all. No refugees whatsoever.
- Q: Excuse me if you said this before, but what city in Afghanistan were you in?
- A: Herat. From the airport, I took a plane from Herat into Kabul.
- Q: You said you stayed at the room on top of the restaurant. During your travels, was it ever required to use a safety deposit box to safeguard your money or to keep your passport? Did anyone indicate it was problematic and potentially dangerous to travel in Afghanistan?
- A: Do you mean during our flight or at the place we were staying? I stayed in three different places and was kicked out of them. Every ten days or so, they'd kick me out of the house, once the bombing started.
- Q: Every how many days?
- A: The first house, I stayed maybe a week or ten days and was then kicked out. The Americans were bombing at that time and the residents of the house were afraid because they had an Arab in the house with them. They were afraid the Americans would bomb the house because of that, so they decided to ask me to leave.

The second house was maybe a week or ten days. The third house, thank God, he allowed me to stay in that house.

Q: For how long?

Q: How long?

A: I don't remember, it's been three years. I don't remember how long I stayed in the house.

Q: One day or more than a week?

A: No, a long, long time. You can probably calculate it. From the time I entered Kabul and then I left Kabul when the Northern Alliance took over that city. I don't remember exactly.

Q: I realize that the amount of money you brought for charity wasn't considered a lot of money by Kuwaiti standards, but by talking with the people in the house, did they indicate that you should put the money someplace for safe keeping?

A: I kept my passport and money in the house. When I left, I'd take $500 to $600 at a time and go and distribute that money. First I would convert it to Afghani money and then I'd distribute it. The rest of the money and the passport were in the house. $100 is a lot of money in Afghani currency, so you couldn't carry the whole amount with you.

Q: The money you had, it was Kuwaiti money or U.S. Dollars?

A: U.S. Dollars. Kuwaiti Dinars do not work in Afghanistan. It wouldn't be useful.

Q: I guess you had lots of $20's and $50's?

A: All $100's. Also, from that money I bought my plane tickets, paid for my presence in the houses, the hotels I stayed at in Iran and the United Arab Emirates.

Q: You had your passport at the time you were detained?

A: No, it was in the house. The interrogators had asked me before why wouldn't I take my passport with me and I should take it everywhere I go. Ask any Kuwaiti if he takes his passport with him when he travels or not. It is impossible that I would travel with Afghans and have my passport with me. If I lost it or dropped it, what would I do then? If a highway robber came up to me and took my passport and my money, what would I do then? That's the Kuwaiti mentality. Anyplace we stay, we put our passport in that place.

- Q: While you were staying at the three houses, there were other people there also...
- A: No there weren't others. It's not a guesthouse; it was a house I would rent.
- Q: Okay, so you were never with more than yourself then?
- A: No, I'm independent. I was in America, Zagreb and Bosnia by myself. I don't need anyone and I depend on myself.
- Q: Did you ever make contact with the Taliban government, officially, to say you were going to distribute money?
- A: I tried, but wasn't able to. They gave me an appointment three days later, but then the war happened. I knew right away that the official Taliban government buildings would be the first ones bombed, so I didn't go back.
- Q: So, you decided to just pass out the money without the...
- A: Yes, the war happened, and I just did it myself. I had the translator with me and as soon as the war started, I said find any way for me to get out. Truthfully, he helped me a lot.
- Q: I missed the part about the translator. Where did you pick up the translator?
- A: The secretary that gave me the appointment to come back, he told me he'd help me get a translator after he got off work. We went to this place and he introduced me to this person. Of course, I had to give him money. He helped me, I gave him money and he helped me a lot. He was with me the whole time until I left.
- Q: Did he give you suggestions as to where you could go to provide this money?
- A: Yes, he was with me and he'd tell me where to go. I didn't know anything, that's why I requested this translator. Otherwise, I would have just stayed in the house until something happened.
- Q: You must have been very popular there, giving money for charity.
- A: I'm sorry, there's a misunderstanding. Did you mean I was very popular or the translator was very popular?

- Q: Well, both would be popular. A man was giving out money and the translator was helping you give the money out. It would seem that people would come to you and say "I could use some money" or talk to the translator to say there is Kuwaiti there to provide money if you need anything.
- A: It's not like we were calling out to people on a radio or a megaphone and they were all coming to us and we were giving out money. That's not the way. We would go into a house and see the situation. We'd sit down, have juice with the people and we'd give them some money and then we'd go. It was a very civilized way of doing things; not just yelling out to people.
- Q: I wasn't suggesting that was what you were doing, I was just wondering if word got out. You were there for several weeks providing this service.
- A: We weren't in the same village every day. There are many villages in Kabul and we'd be in a different village all the time.

Tribunal President's Questions to Detainee

- Q: When you crossed the Iranian border, you said you didn't see any refugees, as you would expect. You flew from Herat to Kabul. You were in Kabul for a few days because confusion started because of the bombing. Then you started to move around a little bit in an effort to help distribute funds and charity. It sounds like a month has almost already passed and the time you planned to be in Afghanistan was coming close to the end. Why didn't you make an attempt, especially after things started becoming more difficult, to return to Kuwait sooner?
- A: I told you. From the minute they started bombing, I told the translator I needed an evacuation plan and I wanted to get out as soon as possible.
- Q: Yet you delayed [by going to] several houses and were attempting to pass out charity.
- A: The translator said I couldn't just leave, just like that and take any way. The Taliban is still there and is preventing people from going outside. The villages surrounding Kabul could be with the opposition, the people opposing the Taliban. Even during the days when the Taliban was governing the country, there were still people against the Taliban. There were Shiites and Farsi speakers. He told me he had to search for the best way for me to get out. I couldn't just leave like that.

It is a very long trip from Kabul to Pakistan. I would pass villages and valleys. It's not that easy. I was looking at the same time for a place to stay. Where would I stay? Everywhere I would go, people were kicking me out. At the same time, from the first day, I was looking for a way to get out.

Q: Did Kuwait have an embassy in Kabul?

A: I don't know.

Q: Did you try to find out if they did?

A: No, I didn't think of it.

Q: Did you try to contact your family or your employer and let them know you'd be delayed in your return?

A: Yes, in Herat and Kabul I contacted my family several times. They were scared because the war had started.

Q: So, they got word that you were going to be delayed?

A: Of course.

Q: And, your child that was scheduled for heart surgery...did your child have heart surgery?

A: Yes. They sent me a message and said thank God he's okay and they sent me pictures as well.

Q: While you were in Afghanistan?

A: No, it was in November. I don't remember if I was in Cuba. If it was in November, I was in Pakistan or Afghanistan, I'm not sure. If they did the surgery after that, I might have been in Cuba.

Q: You got word that the surgery was completed and it went well?

A: Yes.

Q: And your child is healthy today?

A: Yes.

Q: Good.

A: There are two holes in his heart, but now, thank God, he's okay.

- Q: We're certainly glad to hear that and we certainly hope his health continues to do well.
- A: Thank you.
- Q: When you turned yourself in to the Pakistan authorities at the border, what type of documents, money or items did you have in your possession?
- A: Nothing. The money I was distributing was in the house.
- Q: When you left to cross into Pakistan, you purposely left all of your money and your passport in the house?
- A: I was running for my life. What is $4000 dollars? In a month I can make this money.
- Q: I would think it would help your effort to get home. If you had money to pay for guides, more translators, and your passport to show to the Pakistan authority to take you to the Kuwaiti embassy, it would help your chances of getting home safely.
- A: We did have money. We give it to the Afghans to help us as we were proceeding, but not all of the money. I wasn't concerned with the passport or papers because if they had taken me to the Kuwaiti embassy, they would have known I was from Kuwait. It's easy to know; they don't need a passport. I wasn't thinking that the Pakistanis would turn me over to the Americans.
- Q: You indicated that you graduated from the University of Nebraska in 1992?
- A: Yes.
- Q: Why didn't you ask for documentation from the University of Nebraska, for your graduation evidence?
- A: I didn't think it would help me. The Kuwaiti government must have brought it with them and they probably gave it to the Americans. The Americans know that I have graduated. I don't need...I didn't know this would do me any good.
- Q: But, you said your citizenship papers from Bosnia would indicate you were a member of the Bosnian Army in 1992.
- A: I didn't ask for the Bosnian citizenship or the Kuwaiti citizenship.

Q: You asked from citizenship papers for Kuwait and Bosnia. The citizenship information is needed to answer 3(a)8 on the Unclassified Summary. 3(a)8 is the Detainee is listed on a document as being a member of the Mujahadin Brigade in Bosnia, which would have been around 1992 or 1993. Is that correct?

A: No. Maybe the first Personal Representative. I asked for three things; a certificate of my work, my son's operation and my leave request from work. After two weeks, the Personal Representative met with me again and said there were some questions from the State Department he needed to ask me so you could give me these documents.

He asked me my son's name, the one going through the operation, where I worked and the address, my wife's name, and some other questions. When did you get your Bosnian and Kuwaiti citizenships? That's what happened. After four weeks, I got a new Personal Representative. I didn't request the Bosnian or Kuwaiti citizenship.

If it does me any good, I'll tell you I got the Bosnian citizenship in 1996 and I automatically got the Kuwaiti citizenship once I reached 18 years of age.

Q: I remember you saying that although you got the Bosnian citizenship, it reflected, incorrectly, that you were a member of the Bosnian Army that served in 1992 and 1993 with the Brigade.

A: It's not the actual citizenship that I requested. It was the paper that the interrogator was reading from that said I was in the Bosnian Army from 1992 to 1993. I asked him where he got the document from and he said he got it from the Bosnian government.

I explained that in 1992 and 1993 I was in Nebraska, Croatia and Kuwait. Then he became quite and I told him I'd explain how this information got to him incorrectly.

Tribunal Members Questions to Detainee

Q: You mentioned that while you were in Afghanistan, you did contact your family several times. But, in the questions that went to your family, the question was "did he tell you his reasons for going to Afghanistan?" The response was "He did not mention anything about going to Afghanistan. We have no information that he went or entered Afghanistan."

A: Who said this? Was it my family? Was it the Kuwaiti government?

Q: It was your family's response.

- A: Saying that I did not go to Afghanistan?
- Q: No, they're saying you didn't mention anything about going to Afghanistan.
- A: That's incorrect. Maybe they said this because they were trying to help me and they didn't want me to be here.
- Q: You said that before you went to Afghanistan, you did ...
- A: I mentioned it, yes. I told my wife, my mother and my sisters.

Combatant Status Review Board

TO: Personal Representative

FROM: OIC, CSRT (22 September 2004)

Subject: Summary of Evidence for Combatant Status Review Tribunal - AMIN, Omar Rajab

1. Under the provisions of the Secretary of the Navy Memorandum, dated 29 July 2004, Implementation of Combatant Status Review Tribunal Procedures for Enemy Combatants Detained at Guantanamo Bay Naval Base Cuba, a Tribunal has been appointed to review the detainee's designation as an enemy combatant.
2. An enemy combatant has been defined as "an individual who was part of or supporting the Taliban or al Qaida forces, or associated forces that are engaged in hostilities against the United States or its coalition partners. This includes any person who committed a belligerent act or has directly supported hostilities in aid of enemy armed forces."
3. The United States Government has previously determined that the detainee is an enemy combatant. This determination is based on information possessed by the United States that indicates that he supported forces engaged in hostilities against the United States or its Coalition partners.
 - a. The detainee is an al Qaida and/or Taliban supporter:
 1. The detainee traveled from Kuwait, through the United Arab Emirates to Bahrain, to Iran, and finally to Kabul, Afghanistan on 2 October 01.
 2. The detainee is a member of the non governmental organization, (NGO) Kuwaiti Joint Relief Committee
 3. The Kuwaiti Joint Relief Committee is suspected of providing funding and travel documents for mujahidin. Possible links to al-Qaida.
 4. The detainee admits raising $10,000 (USD) and transporting it to Afghanistan.
 5. The detainee admitted fleeing with others due to the "opposition", (Northern Alliance) taking over the city.
 6. The detainee was listed on a document recovered in safehouse raids associated with suspected al Qaida in Karachi, Pakistan.
 7. During the raid on the Karachi safehouses; armed gunmen fought with police; firearms and grenades were seized; and police and security forces were injured by gunfire.

EXECUTIVE ORDER 13224 - BLOCKING PROPERTY AND PROHIBITING TRANSACTIONS WITH PERSONS WHO COMMIT, THREATEN TO COMMIT, OR SUPPORT TERRORISM

By the authority vested in me as President by the Constitution and the laws of the United States of America, including the International Emergency Economic Powers Act (50 U.S.C. 1701 et seq.)(IEEPA), the National Emergencies Act (50 U.S.C. 1601 et seq.), section 5 of the United Nations Participation Act of 1945, as amended (22 U.S.C. 287c) (UNPA), and section 301 of title 3, United States Code, and in view of United Nations Security Council Resolution (UNSCR) 1214 of December 8, 1998, UNSCR 1267 of October 15, 1999, UNSCR 1333 of December 19, 2000, and the multilateral sanctions contained therein, and UNSCR 1363 of July 30, 2001, establishing a mechanism to monitor the implementation of UNSCR 1333,

I, GEORGE W. BUSH, President of the United States of America, find that grave acts of terrorism and threats of terrorism committed by foreign terrorists, including the terrorist attacks in New York, Pennsylvania, and the Pentagon committed on September 11, 2001, acts recognized and condemned in UNSCR 1368 of September 12, 2001, and UNSCR 1269 of October 19, 1999, and the continuing and immediate threat of further attacks on United States nationals or the United States constitute an unusual and extraordinary threat to the national security, foreign policy, and economy of the United States, and in furtherance of my proclamation of September 14, 2001, Declaration of National Emergency by Reason of Certain Terrorist Attacks, hereby declare a national emergency to deal with that threat. I also find that because of the pervasiveness and expansiveness of the financial foundation of foreign terrorists, financial sanctions may be appropriate for those foreign persons that support or otherwise associate with these foreign terrorists. I also find that a need exists for further consultation and cooperation with, and sharing of information by, United States and foreign financial institutions as an additional tool to enable the United States to combat the financing of terrorism.

I hereby order:

Section 1. Except to the extent required by section 203(b) of IEEPA (50 U.S.C. 1702(b)), or provided in regulations, orders, directives, or licenses that may be issued pursuant to this order, and notwithstanding any contract entered into or any license or permit granted prior to the effective date of this order, all property and interests in property of the following persons that are in the United States or that hereafter come within the United States, or that hereafter come within the possession or control of United States persons are blocked:

- (a) foreign persons listed in the Annex to this order;
- (b) foreign persons determined by the Secretary of State, in consultation with the Secretary of the Treasury and the Attorney General, to have committed, or to pose a significant risk of committing, acts of terrorism that threaten the security of U.S. nationals or the national security, foreign policy, or economy of the United States;
- (c) persons determined by the Secretary of the Treasury, in consultation with the Secretary of State and the Attorney General, to be owned or controlled by, or to act for or on behalf of those persons listed in the Annex to this order or those persons determined to be subject to subsection 1(b), 1(c), or 1(d)(i) of this order;
- (d) except as provided in section 5 of this order and after such consultation, if any, with foreign authorities as the Secretary of State, in consultation with the Secretary of the Treasury and the Attorney General, deems appropriate in the exercise of his discretion, persons determined by the Secretary of the Treasury, in consultation with the Secretary of State and the Attorney General;
 - (i) to assist in, sponsor, or provide financial, material, or technological support for, or financial or other services to or in support of, such acts of terrorism or those persons listed in the Annex to this order or determined to be subject to this order; or
 - (ii) to be otherwise associated with those persons listed in the Annex to this order or those persons determined to be subject to subsection 1(b), 1(c), or 1(d)(i) of this order.

Sec. 2. Except to the extent required by section 203(b) of IEEPA (50 U.S.C. 1702(b)), or provided in regulations, orders, directives, or licenses that may be issued pursuant to this order, and notwithstanding any contract entered into or any license or permit granted prior to the effective date:

- (a) any transaction or dealing by United States persons or within the United States in property or interests in property blocked pursuant to this order is prohibited, including but not limited to the making or receiving of any contribution of funds, goods, or services to or for the benefit of those persons listed in the Annex to this order or determined to be subject to this order;
- (b) any transaction by any United States person or within the United States that evades or avoids, or has the purpose of evading or avoiding, or attempts to violate, any of the prohibitions set forth in this order is prohibited; and
- (c) any conspiracy formed to violate any of the prohibitions set forth in this order is prohibited.

Exhibit R4
113

Sec. 3. For purposes of this order:

- (a) the term "person" means an individual or entity;
- (b) the term "entity" means a partnership, association, corporation, or other organization, group, or subgroup;
- (c) the term "United States person" means any United States citizen, permanent resident alien, entity organized under the laws of the United States (including foreign branches), or any person in the United States; and
- (d) the term "terrorism" means an activity that —
 - (i) involves a violent act or an act dangerous to human life, property, or infrastructure; and
 - (ii) appears to be intended —
 - (A) to intimidate or coerce a civilian population;
 - (B) to influence the policy of a government by intimidation or coercion; or
 - (C) to affect the conduct of a government by mass destruction, assassination, kidnapping, or hostage-taking.

Sec. 4. I hereby determine that the making of donations of the type specified in section 203(b)(2) of IEEPA (50 U.S.C. 1702(b)(2)) by United States persons to persons determined to be subject to this order would seriously impair my ability to deal with the national emergency declared in this order, and would endanger Armed Forces of the United States that are in a situation where imminent involvement in hostilities is clearly indicated by the circumstances, and hereby prohibit such donations as provided by section 1 of this order. Furthermore, I hereby determine that the Trade Sanctions Reform and Export Enhancement Act of 2000 (title IX, Public Law 106-387) shall not affect the imposition or the continuation of the imposition of any unilateral agricultural sanction or unilateral medical sanction on any person determined to be subject to this order because imminent involvement of the Armed Forces of the United States in hostilities is clearly indicated by the circumstances.

Sec. 5. With respect to those persons designated pursuant to subsection 1(d) of this order, the Secretary of the Treasury, in the exercise of his discretion and in consultation with the Secretary of State and the Attorney General, may take such other actions than the complete blocking of property or interests in property as the President is authorized to take under IEEPA and UNPA if the Secretary of the Treasury, in consultation with the Secretary of State and the Attorney General, deems such other actions to be consistent with the national interests of the United States, considering such factors as he deems appropriate.

Sec. 6. The Secretary of State, the Secretary of the Treasury, and other appropriate agencies shall make all relevant efforts to cooperate and coordinate with other countries, including through technical assistance, as well as bilateral and multilateral agreements and arrangements, to achieve the objectives of this order, including the prevention and suppression of acts of terrorism, the denial of financing and financial services to terrorists and terrorist organizations, and the sharing of intelligence about funding activities in support of terrorism.

Sec. 7. The Secretary of the Treasury, in consultation with the Secretary of State and the Attorney General, is hereby authorized to take such actions, including the promulgation of rules and regulations, and to employ all powers granted to the President by IEEPA and UNPA as may be necessary to carry out the purposes of this order. The Secretary of the Treasury may redelegate any of these functions to other officers and agencies of the United States Government. All agencies of the United States Government are hereby directed to take all appropriate measures within their authority to carry out the provisions of this order.

Sec. 8. Nothing in this order is intended to affect the continued effectiveness of any rules, regulations, orders, licenses, or other forms of administrative action issued, taken, or continued in effect heretofore or hereafter under 31 C.F.R. chapter V, except as expressly terminated, modified, or suspended by or pursuant to this order.

Sec. 9. Nothing contained in this order is intended to create, nor does it create, any right, benefit, or privilege, substantive or procedural, enforceable at law by a party against the United States, its agencies, officers, employees or any other person.

Sec. 10. For those persons listed in the Annex to this order or determined to be subject to this order who might have a constitutional presence in the United States, I find that because of the ability to transfer funds or assets instantaneously, prior notice to such persons of measures to be taken pursuant to this order would render these measures ineffectual. I therefore determine that for these measures to be effective in addressing the national emergency declared in this order, there need be no prior notice of a listing or determination made pursuant to this order.

- Sec. 11. (a) This order is effective at 12:01 a.m. eastern daylight time on September 24, 2001.
- (b) This order shall be transmitted to the Congress and published in the Federal Register.
